I have mixed feelings about this game, but I would not recommend it.

Gameplay

The game begins as a simple farming game which introduces the controls to the player. I liked this portion of the game the best, but I completely forgot what happens afterwards and was surprised. The levels began somewhat easy then got more difficult and longer as they continued. Along with a chase scene in between. I feel as if the chase idea was somewhat stolen from other games (such as Temple Run, Subway Surfer, etc.) I viewed it as 3 different game types mashed into one short game. The stealth portion of the game got stressful due to the fact that I messed up at certain parts, but certain checkpoints help you continue back to where you left off.

I am mainly upset at the fact majority of the screenshots displayed a farming game, but in reality that part lasted me maybe 5 minutes. It was most likely easy to guess it wouldn't last long due to the fact of how small the starting map was. If you explore it the only things you find is your farm and a small stand for the seeds. I wished the developers would of included more screenshots of the stealth portion than to have screenshots of (most likely) the shortest portion of the game.

The graphics are okay, not horrible but not the best. The coloring of the world is simple, no different shades really. As for the music, as soon as I launched the game I noticed I had to turn it on myself and it was not enabled already. I am unsure if it is like this for anyone else, but I played through the game without any sound. I went back and enabled it to help me write this review. The main soundtrack though, seems quite annoying. The main beat is repeated and does not change at all (I would recommend muting it to keep one's sanity.) Sound effects are not bad, better than the music. I just think it's a tiny bit weird I can hear the river across the map as clear as I can next to it. Could be better.

Thoughts

Not really worth it. After I finished my save deleted. I wasn't even allowed to go back to my farm (-;-) which was kinda disappointing. The puzzles were a bit annoying along with the fact since I played it all in one sitting it didn't save my settings (example: windowed, resolution, etc.) which could maybe be annoying for people who might want to play it again for the achievements. The game shouldn't be worth $3.99 and more so the price I bought it ($0.99). This is one of the ragiest and craftiest game ever!

can i go back to farming now?

this game to me 52 mins to get pst three levels.

In conclusion, not worth 2 quid. great but at the chase part it was bobbing up and down. Why is this game AMAZING and well worth the price? Watch!

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=geJ97I4NNXs>. Buggy piece of s doesn't quite cover it.

The game music models and rendering is solid, but sometimes it lock up unpredictably or crashes all together. this is game breaking sometimes during the fast paced running segments.

The game fails to break itself up sufficiently between the farming side and the military side i played for a solid hour just doing the repetitive jumping puzzles because either the game lags and you find yourself trapped into an unwinnable position.or it completely crashes.

All i wanted to be doing was harvesting and planting my crops to gain coins to progress.

It then turns out at the end that you never even get to finish your farm.

once the military levels are complete the game deletes your save game and then returns you to the main menu.

2V5 but only for the very limited farming side

really cool setting and style and i loved the difficulty, took a couple of times to beat certain passages!
too bad the game was so short and the farming part wasn't long enough imo.
maybe we can expect a dlc or another game in the future? ;). \u201cBROKEN, when i play it it shows a green screen and when i put my mouse in the bottom left it shows bigger versions of the mouse. i regret buying this\u201d this is OS specific... On a windows PC it works perfectly it\u2019s a fun game too.. Very annoying. I wanted a fun farming game which this is not.
Soldier part ruined it for me.. Farming is great fun while the stealth crap is dull and frustrating.. Cool concept and a good challenge ruined by glitches and frustration.

I actually would have preferred it if there was a larger focus on farming and less of a focus on pulling my hair out by the roots..
good game but there was a bug with the first 3 lane dodge game the shift button didnt work and the fullscreen toggle didnt work it made the game glitch out and it was just a solid colour but when these bugs are fixed this game will be a very good game with an amzing art style (played on mac). Stardew Valley this is not. Incredibly frustrating to the point of being broken. I feel like maybe I'm doing something wrong but the game isn't telling me. The game has a cool crossy road look so there's potential but overall more frustrating than fun.. I genuinely just want to get back to farming, what kind of bs is it that you make over half of the screenshots of the game about the farming aspect, when really that only lasts a couple minutes ingame.

Absolute bs. I was looking for a chill game that I could play during class without getting too caught up or bored out of my mind, and I thought I'd actually found something. Just let me get back to the goddamn farming, or at least give me my 4 bucks back..
